

Language proficiency

It is IFALPA's opinion that there should be a single language used for all international commercial air transport operations. This language should be English.

This would provide better global awareness.